Giving to Salus at Drexel University

Gifts can be made to the University Fund, to support operations, be designated to a specific college such as the Pennsylvania College of Optometry, or directed to a specific program, such as Osborne Audiology, Orthotics and Prosthetics, Physician Assistant, Speech-Language Pathology, Blindness and Low Vision Studies, and Occupational Therapy.

There are many ways for you, your family or your company to support Salus at Drexel University. Here are just a few opportunities to make a difference.

Donate an outright gift of cash or securities

Matching gifts from your work place

Donate to Salus at Drexel in honor of a faculty/staff member, in memory of a friend, or loved one. By making a tribute gift, you are honoring those who deserve recognition.

Give in honor of someone special

Donate to Salus at Drexel in honor of a faculty/staff member, in memory of a friend, or loved one. By making a tribute gift, you are honoring those who deserve recognition.

Gifts through your IRA

Avoid the twofold or double taxation of an IRA by naming Salus at Drexel as the beneficiary of the remainder of your assets. You can also rollover a portion of your assets to make a donation directly to Salus at Drexel, reducing your taxable income.

Make a tailored planned gift or bequest

Making a planned gift is a deeply meaningful way to support Salus at Drexel while securing long term financial benefits for you and your family.

Establish an endowed fund

Endowments are the gifts that keep giving in perpetuity. Depending on the size of the gift, endowed funds can generate support for student scholarships, faculty positions, or for a more specific Program.
