Big Crowd, Big Spirit: Elkins Park Campus Celebrates Drexel Homecoming

On Jan. 22, 2026, the Elkins Park campus celebrated its first-ever Drexel Homecoming since the Salus University and Drexel University merger was formalized in July 2025.

The weather mostly cooperated for the event, dubbed “Ignite the Night” on the Elkins Park campus, which featured fire pits where students, faculty, residents and staff alike could enjoy s’mores, festive drinks, food trucks, a pillow-stuffing station, caricature prints, mugs with printed photos and a limited-edition sweatshirt for the first 200 attendees.

The celebration was part of Drexel’s Homecoming, Jan. 22-24, and was one of several other events at main campus, including a window decorating competition, a bonfire and both men's and women's basketball games.

Audiology Students Build Research Confidence with Poster Presentations

When exploring the role genetics can play in hearing health, Casey Ems '27AUD, found access to medical records allowed for a meaningful deep dive into a patient’s history. That access directly led to her development of a poster titled “Progressive Hearing Loss: Exploring the Impact of a Single USH2A Deletion,” which Ems presented recently at the Audiology Grand Rounds poster presentations for students in the Osborne Audiology program at Drexel University. Ems was one of several third-year Doctor of Audiology students who presented their posters.
