

For Immediate Release
October 8, 2018

Contact: Ashley Jefferson
Marketing Coordinator
215.780.1440
ajefferson@salus.edu

Roxborough Resident Named Optometrist at The Eye Institute of Salus University

Elkins Park, Pa. – Dr. Nicholas Karbach, of the Roxborough section of Philadelphia, has been named a primary care service provider at The Eye Institute (TEI) of Salus University. TEI has been a valued vision care resource for the Philadelphia region for more than 40 years, providing comprehensive care and specialty services for children and adults.

In his new role, Dr. Karbach will be responsible for providing care to patients in the primary care service of TEI's locations in both the Oak Lane and East Falls sections of Philadelphia.

Dr. Karbach received his Bachelor of Science degree in Molecular Biology from Grove City College in Grove City, Pa. and his Doctor of Optometry degree from Salus University's Pennsylvania College of Optometry.

Prior to joining the staff as an optometrist, Dr. Karbach completed his primary care residency at TEI in June 2018 with a focus in ocular disease.

###

About Salus University

Salus University, founded as the Pennsylvania College of Optometry in 1919, today is a diversified, globally recognized professional academic center of learning that offers a wide range of degree programs in the professions of Optometry, Audiology, Physician Assistant, Blindness and Low Vision Studies, Biomedicine, Occupational Therapy and Speech-Language Pathology. Salus operates six clinical facilities in Philadelphia and Montgomery counties that provide highly specialized vision, hearing and balance, and speech-language pathology services. The University has more than 1,200 students and more than 14,000 alumni worldwide. For more information, please visit www.salus.edu.