

For Immediate Release
October 8, 2018

Contact: Ashley Jefferson
Marketing Coordinator
215.780.1440
ajefferson@salus.edu

East Falls Resident Named Optometrist at The Eye Institute of Salus University

Elkins Park, Pa. – Dr. Patrick McManamon, of the East Falls section of Philadelphia, has been named an optometrist at The Eye Institute (TEI) of Salus University. TEI has been a valued vision care resource for the Philadelphia region for more than 40 years, providing comprehensive care and specialty services for children and adults.

In his new role, Dr. McManamon will be responsible for providing care to patients in the contact lens service of TEI's location in the Oak Lane section of Philadelphia.

Dr. McManamon graduated from Saint Francis University in Loretto, Pa. with his Bachelor of Science degree in Chemistry and earned his Doctor of Optometry degree from Salus University Pennsylvania College of Optometry.

Prior to joining the staff, Dr. McManamon recently completed his residency at TEI in with a focus in cornea and contact lens. He is also the 2017 recipient of the Johnson & Johnson Award of Excellence in Contact Lens Patient Care.

###

About Salus University

Salus University, founded as the Pennsylvania College of Optometry in 1919, today is a diversified, globally recognized professional academic center of learning that offers a wide range of degree programs in the professions of Optometry, Audiology, Physician Assistant, Blindness and Low Vision Studies, Biomedicine, Occupational Therapy and Speech-Language Pathology. Salus operates six clinical facilities in Philadelphia and Montgomery counties that provide highly specialized vision, hearing and balance, and speech-language pathology services. The University has more than 1,200 students and more than 14,000 alumni worldwide. For more information, please visit www.salus.edu.

